

A whole world of public transport

In this Official Timetable you will find details of train, cableway, boat and bus services in Switzerland plus information on facilities such as carriage of bicycles, luggage check-in (including checking in for flights), combined mobility and much more. If you have any specific questions, please ask at any staffed station. Our website at sbb.ch/en and SBB Mobile Apps for your Smartphone contain up-to-date timetables for all services. You can buy tickets in our online Ticket Shop and find a wide range of additional information. Have a pleasant journey!

The direct way to make the connection

Whatever you want to know about travelling by train: information is available from your local station, over the telephone or online at sbb.ch/en.

sbb.ch – the online station

Find door-to-door connections with our online timetable! Along with precise scheduling details, you can obtain useful information on your place of departure and destination (sbb.ch/en/timetable).

Buy tickets and travelcards around the clock! Tickets for Switzerland and many international connections can be printed out on your own printer (sbb.ch/en/ticketshop).

Brilliant ideas for leisure activities and holidays! Take advantage of interesting combined offers for excursions, short trips and events and book your tickets online (sbb.ch/en/leisure).

There for you 24 hours a day: Rail Service 0900 300 300 (CHF 1.19/min from the CH fixed-line network)

Any time, any day, just call this number to book tickets, reserve seats or obtain information, quickly and easily.

Ticket machines

Ticket machines are available at stations and stops for passengers to purchase tickets in comfort around the clock and without having to queue.

Multiple journey tickets, one-month travelcards, one-day travelpasses valid with the Half-Fare travelcard, bicycle tickets, City Tickets and lots of RailAway leisure time offers are available at 1760 ticket machines for services provided by SBB and its partner rail operators. You can also use them to top up your prepaid mobile phone. Customers can pay in Swiss francs, with euro banknotes, using RekaRail vouchers and Reka Checks, or by debit or credit card.

SBB Mobile – your timetable and ticket counter for your Smartphone

SBB Mobile is perfectly tailored to the needs of public transport users in Switzerland. The application enables you to make real-time timetable enquiries and purchase and display tickets directly from your Smartphone.

SBB Mobile is available free of charge. The only charges you will incur are those for downloading the application and for accessing timetables, maps and other information at your network operator's standard rate for data transmission. Passengers pay for tickets using a credit card or PostFinance Card. SBB Mobile is available for iPhone, Android and Windows Phone.

More information is available at sbb.ch/en/mobile.

Tell us what you think of us: Customer Service SBB 0800 401 401 (free phone)

Do you have suggestions, wishes, questions or complaints regarding SBB's passenger services in general? Or were you particularly impressed with our level of service? We are always happy to hear from you. On weekdays, you can contact our staff directly any time from 08.00 until 17.00 free on 0800 401 401.

Or write to us at: SBB Customer Service, P.O. Box, CH-3000 Berne 65, or e-mail: customerservice@sbb.ch.

Lost items: The SBB Lost Property Service can help (sbb.ch/en/lostandfound)

You've lost something in the train or at the station and would like to know if it has been found? Our lost property service enables you to report all lost property online (free of charge), by calling Rail Service on 0900 300 300 (CHF 1.19/min from the CH fixed-line network) or at any ticket counter (CHF 15.00). Items can be reclaimed on payment of a fee at staffed sales offices during their individual opening hours.

The General Abonnement (GA travelcard) gives you complete freedom

The best and easiest way to travel! Simply catch the next train and set off: the GA travelcard gives you unlimited travel on SBB trains and most other railways in Switzerland. You can also travel by boat, bus or tram and enjoy reduced prices on a wide range of mountain railways. With the Duo Partner GA travelcard and Familia GA travelcard, additional family members or persons living in the same household can obtain a GA at a discounted price. You can choose whether to pay for your GA travelcard yearly or monthly. Every GA travelcard has an initial minimum contract term of 4 months, regardless of the payment interval. Any night supplements are not included in the price. For details on the various offers, please contact your local station or go to sbb.ch/en/ga.

Advantage Youth: Gleis 7

Gleis 7 and Half-Fare travelcard: the smart combination

The Gleis 7 ("Track 7") travelcard is available to Half-Fare travelcard holders up to the age of 25. With Gleis 7, you can travel the whole of Switzerland free of charge in 2nd class from 7.00 p.m. until 5.00 a.m. the following morning.

Gleis 7 is valid for use on the entire SBB network and is also accepted by a large number of independent transport operators. Any night supplements are not included in the price. To find out more, go to sbb.ch/en/track7 or ask at any staffed station.

The Track 7 is just CHF 129 for a whole year. To purchase a Track 7, you must have a valid Half-Fare travelcard.

The point-to-point season ticket for savings on repeat journeys

The same route for less money: the point-to-point season ticket

If you travel the same route for a whole year – for example your trip to and from work – with the annual point-to-point season ticket you would pay for just 9 months. The point-to-point season ticket is available with either 1-month or 1-week validity. With your personalised season ticket (with photo), you can also travel on Postbus lines and certain other bus routes. The point-to-point season ticket can be replaced if lost.

Junior point-to-point season ticket

Children and juniors aged 6–25 receive an additional discount in 2nd class. For first-time orders we will require a passport photo and official proof of identity.

Regional travel system tickets and passes – making travel easier by rail, bus and tram

In most regions of Switzerland, public transport operators have merged to form regional travel systems, uniting the whole area under a single fare network. The zone map then shows how many zones you need to purchase a ticket for to get from A to B. The number of zones required defines the price of the ticket, regardless of whether you travel by rail, bus or tram. All modes of transport are included in the price of a ticket for the relevant zone.

Individual tickets within regional travel systems

The majority of regional travel systems offer individual tickets, one-day travelpasses, multiple journey tickets and group tickets alongside the other familiar travelpasses. Half-Fare travelcard holders can benefit from reduced fares on all tickets. The regional travel systems have the right ticket for all your mobility needs, whether you're making a one-off trip or travel from time to time.

For details on the various offers, please visit sbb.ch/en/networks or contact your local station.

Regional travel system passes

Do you travel the same route frequently throughout the year – your route to work, for example? Then you could save money with an annual regional travel system pass: you pay the equivalent of 9–10 months, in 1st or 2nd class. And for your security, annual regional travel system passes can be replaced if lost (on presentation of the original receipt). Of course, regional travel system passes are also available as monthly and, in some cases, weekly tickets.

For first-time orders we will require a passport photo and official proof of identity.

For details on the various offers, please visit sbb.ch/en/networks or contact your local station.

Junior travel system passes

Children and young people aged 6–25 receive an additional discount of over 20% in 2nd class. For first-time orders we will require a passport photo and official proof of identity.

Travelling outside the borders of the regional network

For journeys beyond the boundaries of the regional network, regional tickets and passes are valid until the last scheduled stop within the selected zones. Regional tickets and passes are not valid on trains that do not stop within the selected zones.

From region to region: the inter-regional travelcard

You can connect between certain regions using the inter-regional travelcard. This ticket entitles you to unlimited use of the core zones in one or two integrated transport systems, as well as the connecting route between the two. More detailed information on inter-regional travelcard offers is available at your nearest station.

You will find regional travel systems in the following regions:

Aargau-Olten-Gösigen-Gäu: A-Welle (tickets and passes)
 Berne-Solothurn-Biel/Bienne-Grenchen-Seeland/Bernese Jura: Libero Tarifverbund (tickets and passes)
 Bernese Oberland: BeoAbo (passes)
 Fribourg: Frimobil (tickets and passes)
 Geneva: Unireso (tickets and passes)
 Graubünden: Tarifverbund Davos-Klosters, Engadin Verbund (tickets and passes)
 Jura: Vagabond (passes)
 Lucerne-Obwalden-Nidwalden: Passepartout (tickets and passes)
 Neuchâtel: Onde Verte (tickets and passes)

Northwestern Switzerland: Tarifverbund Nordwestschweiz (TNW) (tickets and passes)
 Eastern Switzerland: Ostwind (tickets and passes)
 Schaffhausen: FlexTax (tickets and passes)
 Schwyz: Tarifverbund Schwyz (tickets and passes)
 Ticino-Misox-Calancatal: Arcobaleno (tickets and passes)
 Vaud: Mobilis (tickets and passes)
 Zug: Tarifverbund Zug (tickets and passes)
 Zurich: Zurich Transport Authority (ZVV) (tickets and passes)
 Zurich region Z-Pass (tickets and passes)

For more information, zone plans, etc. see sbb.ch/en/networks.

Travel for less with the Half-Fare travelcard

The Half-Fare travelcard lets you travel for half price on all SBB trains and most other railways, as well as boats, buses and trams.* The price does not include any night supplements. You can find more information about the benefits of the Half-Fare travelcard in the leaflet "Travelcards that pay off", available at your station. Alternatively, you can find out more online at sbb.ch/en/half-fare.

Overview of prices for Half-Fare travelcard:

Annual price until the validity start date of 31 July 2016 CHF 165.00

Annual price from the validity start date of 1 August 2016 CHF 185.00

1-year Half-Fare travelcard for 16-year-olds (in 2016) CHF 99.00

* Over short distances (because of minimum fare), on reduced tickets or for some combined offers with add-ons, the discount with a Half-Fare travelcard may be less than 50%.

Monthly travelpasses for Half-Fare travelcard holders: a GA for a month

You can also buy a 1-month travelpass in addition to your Half-Fare travelcard. This turns your Half-Fare travelcard into a GA travelcard for one whole month.

Overview of prices for Monthly travelpass:

	2nd class	1st class
Monthly travelpass	CHF 410.00	CHF 670.00

One-day travelpasses for Half-Fare travelcard holders: unlimited travel!

If you have a Half-Fare travelcard, you need never pay more than CHF 73.00 (in 2nd class) or CHF 124.00 (in 1st class) for a one-day journey on public transport. Instead of buying a half-fare ticket, it often works out cheaper for Half-Fare travelcard-holders to buy a one-day travelpass. This gives you the same freedom of travel as a GA travelcard holder for the day. One-day travelpasses are also available in multipacks (6 for the price of 5).

The 9 o'clock travelpass (CHF 58.00 in 2nd class/CHF 96.00 in 1st class) is valid exclusively on Monday to Friday from 9.00 onwards. It is not valid on Saturdays, Sundays or public holidays as listed in this official timetable. 9 o'clock travelpasses are also available in multipacks (6 for the price of 5).

The one-day travelpass for children entitles children aged 6-16 to travel for CHF 16.00 in 2nd class or CHF 32.00 in 1st class. Each child must hold his or her own one-day travelpass, and a maximum of four children may travel with each adult (over 16 years).

Overview of prices for one-day travelpasses:

	2nd class	1st class
Half-Fare one-day travelpass	CHF 73.00	CHF 124.00
Multipack of Half-Fare one-day travelpasses (6 for 5)	CHF 365.00	CHF 620.00
Half-Fare 9 o'clock travelpass	CHF 58.00	CHF 96.00
Multipack of Half-Fare 9 o'clock travelpasses (6 for 5)	CHF 290.00	CHF 480.00
One-day travelpass for children	CHF 16.00	CHF 32.00

Annual Half-Fare travelcards for families

The Junior travelcard costs CHF 30 for one year and lets children aged 6 to 15 inclusive travel on public transport with a parent in possession of a valid ticket. Your third child gets a Junior travelcard for free. Simply show the other two junior travelcards when purchasing.

The Grandchild travelcard costs CHF 30 for one year and lets children aged 6 to 15 inclusive travel all around Switzerland with a grandparent in possession of a valid ticket.

The multiple journey ticket: extra convenience for occasional travellers

If you're always taking the same route, but not on a regular basis, the multiple journey ticket is the best deal for you.

Buy once, travel six times.

The handy-format multiple journey ticket is not personalised and is thus transferable – it is also valid for several passengers travelling together and in combination with the Junior or Grandchild travelcards.

Stay mobile at your destination with the City Ticket and the City-City Ticket

If you're travelling on one particular day – whether for business or pleasure – the City Ticket and City-City Ticket will make your day trip complete.

The City Ticket includes travel between your departure and destination as well as unlimited travel for one day on the local transport authority network of your destination. It really is a go-anywhere ticket – use public transport services as much as you like in your destination city on the day you choose to travel. City Tickets are available at all stations and touch-screen ticket machines, and also in the Online Ticket Shop (sbb.ch/en/ticketshop) or via SBB Mobile.

Price: standard fare plus supplement for local transport services.

The City-City Ticket is available exclusively online in the SBB Ticket Shop (sbb.ch/en/ticketshop) or via SBB Mobile. You decide yourself whether the City-City Ticket is a one-day pass for unlimited travel on the municipal transport network in the departure and/or destination city.

Savings for everyone: the Group Ticket

Groups of at least 10 persons travelling together can take advantage of numerous reductions:

- 20% discount on the regular fare for adults without travelcards.
- 60% discount on the regular fare for passengers with a Half-Fare travelcard, for children aged 6 to 16 years and for schoolchildren, young persons and students aged up to 25 years.
- In addition, every tenth person travels for free (for RailAway group combined offers this includes the journey and add-ons).
- You will be refunded the cost of a public transport ticket for one person for a "trial run" if you book a group excursion on public transport.
- You will benefit from reduced-price RailAway group combined offers: sbb.ch/en/group-travel.

Persons who hold a GA travelcard or an annual season ticket can also be included in the group. The following are not included: persons holding a 1-day travelpass with Half-Fare travelcard, a municipal one-day travelpass or a Gleis 7 travelcard, and children travelling for free with 1-day travelpasses for children, junior or grandchild travelcards, as well as children aged up to 6 years old.

The number of seats for a group may be restricted on certain services. We advise you to book as early as you can so that we can make sure that there are enough seats. You can reserve group tickets up to two days before you travel by 3 p.m. at the counter or by telephone from Rail Service on 0900 300 300 (CHF 1.19/min. from a Swiss landline). You can even book your group journey online at sbb.ch/counter-groups.

Standard tickets for individual journeys

For occasional rail travel: standard tickets

The standard tickets issued for individual journeys are valid for either one day or ten days, depending on the distance to be travelled. Exception: Online Tickets are valid for one day or for return on a chosen day within ten days of the outward journey. Under-16s travel at half fare, accompanied under-6s go free.

km	→	⇄
up to 115	Day of issue	Day of issue
from 116	Day of issue	10 days

Before travelling: Purchase and/or validate tickets

When you see the © symbol on a train, you must bear in mind that tickets are not sold on board. Please buy and/or validate your ticket before boarding. If you do not have a valid ticket, you will have to pay a fine. Your personal details will be recorded. The fine is increased for a repeat offence.

Travel right across Europe with our great deals

The Interrail Global Pass or Interrail One Country Pass

Interrail is the ideal solution for children (children aged 4 to 11 and accompanied by an adult with an Interrail Adult Pass travel for free), young people, adults and senior citizens looking for independent 1st or 2nd class travel. Many countries are just waiting to be discovered, with a choice of "One Country Passes" (29 countries, no special prices for senior citizens), Interrail passes for individual countries, or the "Interrail Global Pass" for all 32 countries involved in the scheme. All "Interrail Global Pass" holders are also entitled to discounts on tickets from their home town to the border. It is compulsory to reserve a seat on trains for which tickets are sold at market prices, such as TGV, Thalys, Eurostar and night trains. Tickets should be booked at the earliest possible opportunity as the number of seats is limited. These tickets come at a special price, however.

For further information visit sbb.ch/en/interrail.

Disabled travellers (sbb.ch/en/mobil)

SBB's Call Center Handicap is the central point of contact for all queries relating to passengers with a disability. Lines are open every day from 06.00 to 22.00 on freephone number 0800 007 102.

For wheelchair users, passengers with impaired mobility, and blind and visually impaired travellers, staff are on hand at 180 Support Stations to assist with boarding and alighting. Please be sure to contact the Call Center Handicap (Freephone 0800 007 102) to request assistance no later than one hour before your train is due to depart (in exceptional cases, two hours before) for all domestic Swiss services so that we have enough time to organise appropriate assistance. For international services with seat reservation, wheelchair users are requested to book their tickets at their local station or via Rail Service on 0900 300 300 (CHF 1.19/min from the CH fixed-line network) and to request assistance from the Call Center Handicap (0800 007 102) at least 3 working days before departure.

With a few exceptions, all fast trains on Switzerland's standard-gauge railways (incl. ICE, TGV, EC, IC), plus regional trains on certain routes and Zurich S-Bahn double-deck trains have a 2nd class carriage with a wheelchair compartment (in ICN and IC2000 double-deck trains, this compartment is actually in 1st class, valid with a 2nd class ticket). The compartments are marked with the ♯ pictograms on both the inside and the outside of the train.

To allow us to board you as smoothly as possible, please make your way to the Mobilift in the middle of the departure platform 10 minutes before the train is due to depart.

For full details, please see our "Travelling with a disability" brochure, or go to sbb.ch/en/mobil. You can order the brochure via the SBB Call Center Handicap on 0800 007 102, or just ask at your local station.

By car, bike and train from door to door

Be smart: combine car, bicycle and train

SBB offers a whole range of ways for you to travel as efficiently as possible. Why not combine private and public transport? This lets you get to the station quickly, enjoy a comfortable train ride before you continue your journey on your own, and arrive at your destination on time. You can find information on the combination options at sbb.ch/en/mobility.

Individual travel to the railway station

Travelling to the station by bicycle or motorbike.

Railway stations in Switzerland have some 89,000 parking spots for bicycles and motorbikes, with some locations even having monitored cycle parks. sbb.ch/en/bikeparking.

By car to the station.

If you live in a place without a station or other optimal public transport connection, but would still like to cover most of the distance by train: then you should try P+Rail. Park your car at the nearest station in a P+Rail parking space and hop on board the train for the major part of the journey. You can buy P+Rail 1-day passes for one to seven consecutive days – and now you can use the SBB P+Rail app to make your purchases too. sbb.ch/en/parking.

Individual onward travel from the station

If need be, you can cover the last few kilometres from station to destination by car or by bike, to arrive relaxed at your final destination, be it a meeting venue, the office, the house of a friend or relative, or a picnic spot in the country.

Onward travel by car.

At the destination station, you can change easily to a RailTaxi, rental car or CarSharing vehicle for the final few kilometres, thereby reaching your destination comfortably and directly – even if this is not ideally accessible via public transport. These combination options are suitable for both business and leisure trips. You can find more information at sbb.ch/en/carsharing or sbb.ch/en/clickdrive.

Continue your journey on a rental bike or with a bike sharing bicycle.

Embark on an adventure by train and rental bike. You can find rental bikes for the whole family at 200 hire stations across Switzerland, including 80 located at train stations. Simply arrive by train, hire a bike directly from the station and begin your very own cycling tour. Between March and October, you can find attractive combined offers for the best rental bike tours at sbb.ch/en/rentabike.

PubliBike provides bicycles and e-bikes at 122 bike-sharing stations in 41 cities. Its self-service rental system is easy to use and available 24 hours a day. You can find more information at sbb.ch/en/bikesharing.

Take your bicycle with you: Services admitting passengers with bicycles

With a bike ticket, you can take your bicycle onto most SBB trains and other railways and postbuses. You must pay to transport your bicycle. Trains and postbus lines that do not allow bicycles on board are marked with the  symbol in the official timetable, online timetable and SBB Mobile app. The bike reservation symbol  indicates the trains and postbuses which require you to book a space for your bike in advance.

Depending on the traffic volume – particularly when the weather is good – on-board capacity for bicycles can fill up quickly. Look at the capacity forecast in the online timetable or SBB Mobile app before you travel. Please plan your journey well in advance and make the most of our tips and the webpage sbb.ch/en/bicycle.

No more lugging heavy suitcases

Luggage

Make the most of SBB's handy luggage options: From direct door-to-door transport to sending your luggage abroad – get from A to B without your bags weighing you down. You can even benefit from same-day luggage transport between tourist destinations. You can find more information at sbb.ch/en/baggage.

Flight luggage

Your luggage-free route to the airport: You can hand over and check in your luggage at the train station or from your house right up until the evening before your flight – you will receive your boarding pass and your seat will be reserved. You can find all the participating train stations and airlines, as well as information about times, at sbb.ch/en/baggage.

Chartering whole carriages or trains

Book our modern or historic carriages and trains for celebrations or events and begin your festivities right at the start of the journey. Our special trains can accommodate and transport up to 1,000 people together, safely, and in an eco-friendly manner.

Use the travel time for a special meeting or seminar in our saloon car, "Le Salon de Luxe". You can celebrate family occasions in the pride of the SBB's fleet, the "Churchill" "red double-arrow" train, and the three saloon cars of the Prestige Continental Express also provide wonderful dining opportunities.
